The Hive

Why Us?

Unlocking Potential

Is what we do

The Hive offers a range of seminars, workshops, training courses and coaching services that support various disadvantaged groups and those at risk of becoming disadvantaged.

To give young people and professionals the opportunity to redirect their focus, we believe a new approach is required.

The current process of loading knowledge on to young people is not working for the vast majority. Understanding what is missing and restoring it, will allow more people to develop their own positive habits.

We have developed a collection of training programs aimed at providing core skills to those in disadvantaged groups to improve confidence, drive, ambition and to change the thought processes to creating a different and better future.

Why is The BITIMO Collection different?

Bag It, Tag It & Move On

Is the only CBT based Programme that is designed specifically to support Individuals experiencing Life Changing Transition and their significant other. This can be a partner, a parent / carer, sibling or friend. BITIMO can be delivered as an interactive course or in seminar format.

Who is BITIMO for?

Those transitioning from:

Military Service

Care Leavers

Domestic Abuse Survivors

By allowing the development of Core Skills and including a person significant other, The BITIMO collection can increase the effectiveness of the support network around the individual . This is the only programme of its kind that we are aware of.

BITIMO is comprised of 2 parts

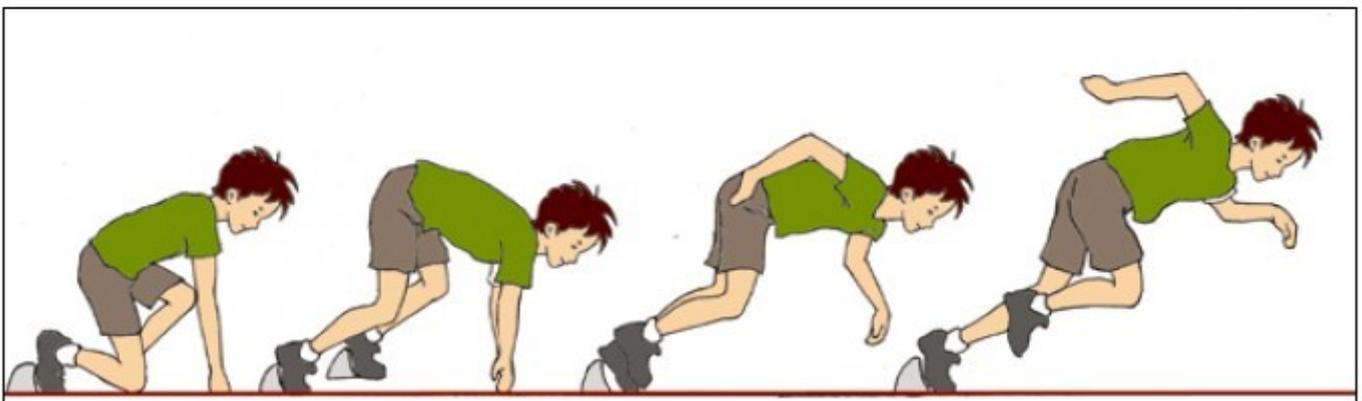

On Your Marks & Ready, Set, Go!

On Your Marks: Focuses on core personal skills that strengthen the resilience's of the individual and gives the tools to build an effective framework for the future.

Ready, Set, Go!: Focuses on the Core Personal Skills to survive and thrive without the restrictions of the past.

BITIMO does not explore past experiences, traumas or nightmares. The focus is aimed completely at Moving On.

BAG IT, TAG IT & MOVE ON

Why is BITIMO different?

In spite of an increasing focus in the wider workplace of supporting people with experience of military service or connection to the social care sector, it is clear that having had little or no systemic support for their emotional and psychological well-being during the transition phase, many people find the transition difficult. This is known to lead to an increase in many long term problems. Such as full family breakdowns, debt, Homelessness, Drug & Alcohol dependency, Crime and Suicide. BITIMO can NOT eradicate these, but it can give people a greater chance to avoid them. By strengthening the core personal skills and coping capabilities within the individuals and their support network BITIMO can give a genuine opportunity for long term success.

These programmes are not an alternative to the programmes of employability or the foundation education courses that already exist. These programmes are specifically designed to provide a bridge that can increase successful engagement with such programmes, or direct employment. The Hive works with an amazing team of partners that provide phenomenal ongoing support and recruitment options.

We hope that successful completion of these programmes will support local Authorities in their housing decisions as people become less likely to be poor tenants.

These programmes also support wider businesses as the talent pool of people that can effectively engage with the working world can increase.

For those young people that have previously completed Rampage HD. They can pass straight to the Ready, Set Go! program.

The Hive can also offer the Skills for Service program as a dedicated route to interview within the Hospitality, Leisure & Service, Construction and Retail sectors. As well as our Creative Hive for those with their own creative enterprise ideas.

We are developing the Range of 'Skills for:' package to increase the options, these will include Skills for: Retail, Business, Transport, Animal Management, to name a few.

The Delivery Options

BITIMO supports 3 distinctive groups, therefore the delivery systems are required to respond to the needs of each group.

Those transitioning from Military Service

Part 1: On Your Marks: Is delivered as either a 1 Day seminar as part of a residential retreat, in partnership with our Support Partners, AYANAY.

Part 2: Ready, Set, Go! Is delivered as part of a residential retreat, in partnership with our Support Partners, AYANAY.

The programme is designed for a minimum of 15 Personnel and 1 person of significance to that member of the armed forces. This could be a partner, parent, sibling or friend.

In order to maximise the benefit of building an effective support network, The Hive will sponsor the programme place for those people of significance. Unfortunately, at this time we are unable to sponsor the costs of travel and accommodation for them.

Those transitioning from Social Care and Survivors of Domestic Abuse

Where a person has not had the benefit of completing our Rampage HD Programme, BITIMO will run as a single course and to maximise the flexibility for Local Authorities, There are 2 options for this group.

1. 10 sessions over 10 weeks. Each session being 4 hours.
2. 10 sessions over 10 months, with each session being 6 hours and a dedicated Task book being completed. Which builds a portfolio of completed skills for independent living.

Both options are designed to be delivered with either the carer or key worker taking part. Groups will contain a minimum 10 Care Leavers and a maximum of 15.

For those that have previously completed our Rampage HD programme, They would be permitted to complete Ready, Set, Go! as a stand alone programme.

The venues, in which BITIMO is delivered to these groups will be group specific.

Change it. Don't just Reframe it

As we all know, change of any kind can be difficult. Where a change affects large numbers of people it can be especially daunting, so much so, that we naturally find a way to limit or even reduce the impact of the change, preferring the status quo.

We don't like, want, understand or even care for the change. We convince ourselves that the change won't work and then find ways to prove ourselves right. Often creating the situation for the change to fail. In order for us to avoid this truth of human psychology, we simply reframe the situation and our responses to the need for change.

For decades, it has been highlighted within the Social Care & Justice Sectors that the communication and working relationships between young people, their carers and their professionals has not been as effective as it could be.

This is a prime example of a change being needed. Yet, the operational response has been to reframe the situation; spending a small fortune on training the professionals on various awareness programmes and the carers being offered situational awareness programmes. With little or no work with the young people directly around their own communication skills, the situation is therefore reframed, as the awareness levels have been increased. Thus successfully deflecting the need for change and wasting valuable finances and time.

It may seem the obvious solution is to increase the communication skills training for the professionals and let this filter through the system. We would argue against such a 1 dimensional approach as it does not support the carers or the young people to develop themselves. It only reinforces the approach of reframing and ignores the fact that for effective communication to exist and survive, all parties must have some core foundations in place. It is clear that for many young people these foundations are either missing or depleted due to their life experiences.

With ever increasing workloads, reducing funds and a depletion of experienced professionals & carers, it is more imperative than ever that there is a change in the systematic approach that allows the 3 primary players in social care to develop and maintain effective communication.

We believe that the key to ensuring that communication and working relationships, is the same for everyone, whether connected to social care or not. That key is, solid foundations and core skills. This is the lynchpin to all of our successes. By bringing young people, carers, and professionals together, to develop and nurture those core skills and give life to effective communication between all 3 groups, building trust, improving knowledge and awareness, providing young people with a skills platform from which they can engage and succeed.

Why is The Hive different?

Our Founders

CEO & Director of Social Care: Su Sleet

Su Sleet is a passionate HCPC registered Social Worker and advocate of supporting people, teams and organisations to deliver the best outcomes for their clients. A life long dedication to social care has given Su a wealth of knowledge that is often lost in the hectic nature of life.

Su started her working life as a frontline Police officer before being injured in the line of duty. She went on to serve as a Foster carer for 11 years. Providing a safe, positive and productive home environment for over 90 young people. Many, who the professionals felt would be too difficult to place in a home setting.

The lessons learned during those years led Su to study and qualify as a Social worker, in a career spanning almost 3 decades Su has worked in various parts of the UK including London. Holding posts including Senior Team Manager and Group Manager. Working across the Children's Social Care portfolio, Mentoring & supporting professionals.

Managing Director: David A. Sleet

Growing up in a home that fostered children, witnessing the unconscious playing out in front of him, assisting as one child to others, caring and supporting them as children so often do. He had the privilege to learn from the ground up creating a mind alive with potential ways to inform others of the success within them.

David has always surrounded himself with professionals that reinforce, validate, increase and expand his knowledge and understanding of a psychological perspective, this hones a solution driven approach. The psychological process and adaptability David has demonstrated in his career is second to none.

Make The Hive Group UK the go to organisation for consistent support for those disadvantaged by life.

Why The Hive?

The Hive, in the natural world is the most productive and successful organisational Structure. We believe that humans have a lot to benefit from adopting a Hive psychology. In a Hive every component is connected and supportive of the other components. As each component is strengthened, the other components benefit and the Hive grows. The bigger the Hive, the more successful it becomes and the cycle of development continues.

It is ultimately this approach, that makes The Hive unique. With 2 primary psychological approaches: Cognitive Behavioural Therapies (CBT) and the Person Centred Approach, we have designed all our programmes to develop a stronger core skills that build a greater resilience that can improve the chances for a positive outcome.

To achieve such a powerful inner change, many of us would need new tools and ways of approaching the challenges and those are just not available anywhere, until now.

21 elements that are included in some or all of our programmes are:

- | | | | |
|-----|---|-----|---|
| 1. | Moving Forward | 11. | Building a positive wall |
| 2. | It's time to play
be the game | 12. | Knowledge + Communication
+ Confidence = Passion |
| 3. | Train Hard - Work Smart -
Win Easy | 13. | Who am I |
| 4. | Reaction vs Response | 14. | Safe Me |
| 5. | Types of Personalities | 15. | My Story, My Future |
| 6. | Building Your Own Team | 16. | Needs, Wants & Desires |
| 7. | TUB Ratings | 17. | When things go wrong |
| 8. | Decision Making | 18. | Protecting My Attitude |
| 9. | Getting on TRACK | 19. | A New Outlook |
| 10. | Great Interactions | 20. | Effective Planning |
| | | 21. | Excuses or Results |

When these elements were not only present in a persons psyche but were expressed in their actions they appear to the rest of the world, in a different light. Their psyche was enabling them to have a different outlook our programme harness these elements so young people benefit from their naturally improved presentation to the world.
